REAL ESTATE DEVELOPERS AND CONTRACTORS REQUIRE A SPECIAL TYPE OF BUSINESS ADVISOR

Real estate developers, investors and contractors require a special type of business advisor—one who recognizes the distinguishing characteristics and needs of the industry.

We assist our real estate development clients with key issues such as entity selection, like-kind exchange opportunities, and minimization of income taxes on the sale of developed properties. And, our team of professionals has the specialized knowledge needed to help contractors handle unique challenges such as seasonal cycles, bonding requirements, financing needs, tax and financial reporting issues, and succession planning.
